Easter: Not a Day but a Season in our Soul

At our Maundy Thursday service, I had indicated in my meditation that evening that I found myself more in need of Holy Week and Easter than ever before. The reasons are many. We are in the midst of an incredibly divisive and tense political season. And against the back drop of news coverage of daily violence and the latest round of terrorism, my soul was longing to connect with something much deeper than the darkness of this world. I was longing for the cross' critique of worldly power. By letting ourselves fully experience the meaning of Holy Week, by facing the death of Christ at the hands of the worldly powers of his day, we learn again that death is not the final word. The worst thing is not the final thing. The bonds of sin and death are broken in the resurrection. Love triumphs over death.

Easter is not just a day. It is a season. Not just a season of the year, but a permanent season in the soul for every Christian. As I was reflecting on all of this for my own preparation, I received the Easter message from Bishop Jane Middleton. It spoke to me and was just what I needed to hear. I wanted to share a portion of it with you. Bishop Middleton had traveled through the airport in Brussels just weeks before the two explosions wreaked unspeakable destruction on innocent people, and here are her words of reflection on the meaning of Easter in the midst of the world's darkness.

"This is our world today. Too many live daily in harm's way in war-torn countries, struggling for any sense of security as explosives and gun fire surround them, basic needs are absent and children know no safety. We live in a broken world in which terrorists commit heinous atrocities; others demean, dehumanize, and victimize those who are different from them; systems create enormous disparities between those of wealth and those struggling for just one meal; children suffer from curable disease that strike down thousands daily.

Jesus Christ came into a world like ours. The circumstances for him were different, but very much the same. He was born in a country oppressed by Roman rule. He was constantly criticized by civil and religious authorities and ultimately crucified.

But that is not the end of the story! The wonderful news of the resurrection is the promise that ‘nothing can separate us from God’s love in Christ Jesus our Lord.’ The Resurrection proves that love and new life can come out of death and destruction. God redeems the worst humans can do--killing an innocent person--and brings a great victory out of seeming defeat. As people of the resurrection, let us claim the promise of new life in the midst of death!

Now, as much as ever, we need to hear anew the promise of love and new life that Easter offers. Let us sing our Easter “Alleluias” as God’s answer to the suffering, destruction and death that reigns in our world. May we live into the good news that God’s eternal love is more powerful than any evil humans can commit....As United Methodists, may we demonstrate by our deeds the reality of the Easter message of hope and healing made possible through Jesus Christ.”

To which we can only say, “AMEN.”
Blessings, Pastor Kim

Special Note from Pastor Kim

Dear friends,

I have been so grateful for all of your prayers and support over the past couple of months as I have dealt with all of the anxieties and complications of a breast cancer diagnosis. I wanted to bring you up to date on what the next step in my treatment will be, as I promised that I would. As I indicated last month, my lumpectomy at Greenwich Hospital went very well. The pathology report came back to show I had early stage breast cancer which had NOT spread to the lymph nodes. I was very grateful for this news. My doctor recommended that the tissue be sent for further and more sophisticated "Oncology typing" tests to measure the likely rate of recurrence of the tumor. The reason for this is that if the tumor is shown to be aggressive in nature, chemotherapy is added to the treatment plan. My test results came back this past Monday and I was relieved to learn that I had a low score for the possibility of recurrence. What this means is that chemo will not need to be part of the treatment mix and the primary treatment will be radiation. The way that things have been explained to me is that the tumor has been removed and is now gone. The reason for the radiation therapy is to kill any microscopic cancer cells that might be remaining. This is standard of care treatment for breast cancer.

My radiation treatment will start Monday, March 28, at Danbury Hospital. I will go every day for six weeks (this is the typical regimen for breast cancer radiation). I have asked for and received morning appointments on most days and was told the time there is usually 45 minutes to an hour. It is my intention to continue working full-time at the church throughout the treatment. The doctor was on board with this, but did caution that radiation typically causes fatigue as the treatment progresses, and that I need to be prepared to adjust my schedule accordingly. In light of this, I will probably take a week off at the very end of treatment. In addition, I will likely arrange for someone else to preach the last few weeks of treatment. Other than that, I plan to be fully around. Though I do not imagine any large disruptions to church life, six weeks of radiation appointments will likely result in the need for some schedule adjustments. I will be grateful for your understanding. Though I cannot envision any particular assistance that I will need at this time, your ongoing prayers will be appreciated during this next step. What I would most want you to know is that I am very grateful that this was caught early and for the excellent medical care and support that I have thus far received.

Blessings in Christ, Kim

SPRINGTIME AND PUMPKIN SEEDS

There are many verses about seeds in the Bible. One favorite selection is the Parable of the Mustard Seed.

“The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed that someone took and sowed in his field; it is the smallest of all the seeds, but when it has grown it is the greatest of shrubs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and make nests in its branches.” Matthew 13: 31-32

Let us now consider the pumpkin seed. Although we all do not need to plant our own garden we can all provide “seed money” for the Pumpkin Festival Harvest on October 1st. (Now here is a project with no heavy lifting!) During two Sundays this month special “Seed Money” envelopes will be provided with your bulletin. Please contribute now so that we will “reap with shouts of joy” for the mission work of our church.

Trustee's Report

Column Update: A spreadsheet with all details from Cenexo (contractor for Column replacement) on work to done and specific dates was distributed. The entire project is to be completed by April 15th and to be within budget.

Security: It was reported that random items were, once again, missing. Cameras continue to be in place. Study into further security measures is ongoing.

Signage: It was established that we need to look into some additional work on our new signage. Landscaping will be accomplished as soon as weather permits.

Discussion continues on the placement of the old metal church sign in the prayer garden. Mary Lou will look into this with the Litchfield Family.

Parsonage Needs: Kim reported on the comments at the servicing of the parsonage furnace. Repairs have been completed but the furnace will soon need to be replaced.

A special Thank You to Prosperity Cleaning Services for donating their services to clean and wax the wing hallways. A great job and a nice improvement to our facility.

Youth News

Youth explore the messages in music

Our Youth Group met on Sunday, March 13th, at The Spaulding's house. After sharing some s'mores around the campfire, our youth, joined by some of our leaders, listened for the meaning in some popular Christian music. We had a rich conversation as we shared what we heard in the music by the words the songwriter chose. It was interesting the varying messages we each took away.

Stay tuned for our next Youth Adventure

Sunday School News

Heifer Project

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you! The generosity of our congregation never ceases to amaze me. During the Lenten season the Sunday school collected pocket change (and dollars) from our church family for the Heifer project. Heifer International provides opportunities for families to alleviate hunger and poverty through providing livestock and training. We collected over $200.00, $218.00 to be exact. With that amount we can purchase more than one animal to help more than one family! We haven't decided just which animals we will purchase yet. As soon as we do, I will let you know.

Again I would like to express my appreciation to all of you who participated. Not only are we helping to end hunger but we are also providing a wonderful example of Christian sharing for our children. I am so grateful to be part of such a kind congregation.

Easter Egg Hunt

We were blessed with sunshine for our annual Easter egg hunt. Our front lawn looked so beautiful with colorful plastic eggs scattered all over. It looked like it was polka – dotted! The children were delighted.

I would like to thank the Easter bunny's helpers that made the hunt possible and the lawn beautiful and put smiles on the children's faces. They include the adults who contributed candy, Audrey who filled all the eggs, and the youth who helped hide them! Great job!

Blessings,
Phyllis Tranzillo
